

TEAM RACING

Sunday 16th August, 11:00hrs

What is team racing?

Attenborough team racing will involve a maximum of six teams, each racing each other once with semi-final and finals. Races are between two teams at a time and the event comprises a number of short races (typically only 10 to 12 minutes long) with courses set to maximise the opportunities for team tactics.

The event will be held in the RS Visions and each team will have two boats, each with a crew and helm. For two-boat team racing, the points system is not used and the team with the boat in last place loses; tactics are to ensure your team isn't in last place so plenty of opportunities to go slow.

Apart from being fun, team racing is an ideal way to improve boat handling skills, tactics and rules awareness particularly at marks and up the final beat to the finish line.
